AFFIDAVIT

I declare that the text of the article, which I sent to the editorial office of the journal Listy klinické logopedie is an original work which has not been published yet.

I declare that all the co-authors are listed in the manuscript of the article and that citations are given on all the parts taken from other published documents.

I declare that if I have used a generative artificial intelligence tool in the preparation of the article, this fact is stated in the introduction of the text, including a precise definition of the tool used and the scope of its use. I further declare that no artificial intelligence tools were used in developing the research concept itself, formulating ideas, interpreting results, or writing any part of the text without prior authorial input.

I declare that the text of the article lists all grants and financial resources with the help of which the published project was financed.

I declare that I have read and that I agree with the Code of Ethics for Research Studies Involving Human Subjects and the Ethical policy for authors that is published on the web pages of the LKL Journal.
